INTRODUCTION.

Every lawyer who has had occasion to investigate land titles of Eastern Oklahoma has felt very greatly the need of a hand book, from which could be obtained quickly the information as to when an allotment of land becomes subject to alienation.

The purpose of the Title Digest is to furnish this information not only by brief, direct statement of the time when such alienation could be made, but to support such statement with the particular sections of the Acts of Congress giving the authority, and a digest of the decisions of the courts on those sections and the Acts.

In order to simplify and place before the inquirer in an accessible manner this information the lands have been classified in the same terms used by the statutes and the courts, as follows:

HOMESTEADS

SURPLUS,

INHERITED SURPLUS,

Also TOWN LOTS and SEGREGATED LANDS.

The chart sections give the information as to what periods of time the above lands are subject to alienation by the members of each of the Five Civilized Tribes in this arrangement:

ADULTS (who are)

NON-INDIANS

MIXED-BLOOD INDIANS

FULL-BLOOD INDIANS

MINORS (who are)

NON-INDIANS

MIXED-BLOOD INDIANS

FULL-BLOOD INDIANS

With the chart for each nation or tribe is given the law of descent of that tribe.

Each statement of the chart refers by number to the sections of the Acts of Congress and the digests of the decisions of the courts, all of which are reproduced in the following pages, enabling the examiner to investigate for himself the authority for the statements made in the chart.

The digests of decisions include those of the United States District Courts

United States Circuit Court of Appeals

United States Supreme Court

Supreme Court of the State of Oklahoma

It is hoped that the plan of the Title Digest presents in a convenient form the information which is absolutely necessary to the examination of titles, and which it is so impossible for an attorney to keep in mind, and yet so formidable as an object of search, time after time, in each instance.

R. P. HARRISON.

REFERENCE CHART—CREEK NATION

(For the text of the sections, extracts and chapters and for ruling cases named below, see pages following these Digest pages.)

1. See the Creek Nation Law of Descent; but as allotment of lands was not made until after the repeal of the Creek law, by the Curtis Act of June 28, 1898, effective in the Creek Nation October 1, 1898 (30 Stat. 495), there was no real estate subject to its operation.

2. See Sec. 26, and 28 of the Curtis Act, June 28, 1898 (30 Stat. 495), which by abolishing the Tribal laws and Tribal courts, made effective the 49th chapter of Mansfield's Digest of the Laws of Arkansas, previously adopted by Sec. 30 and 31 of the Act of May 2, 1890 (26 Stat. 81), but restrained its application by the proviso in Sec. 30, thereby continuing the jurisdiction of the Tribal courts over matters between citizens, until the Indian Appropriation Act of June 7, 1897 (30 Stat. 83), partially, and the Curtis Act wholly, made the Arkansas law operative.

For limitations on will of Full-Blood see reference No. 11 below.

For expiration of the 5-year restriction period on Aug. 8, 1907, being a removal of restrictions, see U. S. v. Bartlett, 235 U. S. 72.

The first removal of restrictions by the Secretary of the Interior under the above sections was on July 10, 1903. See Dawes Commission Records.

For necessity of expiration of time to elapse before approval by Secretary of Interior, see Simmons v. Whittington, 27 Okla. 356.

ACT OF 1906.

7. Sec. 2, 5, 19, 22 and 23 of the Act of April 26, 1906, An Act to Provide for the Final Disposition of the Five Civilized Tribes, and Other Purposes. (34 Stat. 137.) Caution—The Digest statement as to Non-Indians and Mixed-Bloods of all degrees is based on the assumption that the above section 22 repealed the provision in Sec. 7, of the Original Creek Treaty and Sec. 16 of the Supplemental Creek Treaty that the homestead should remain for the use and support of children born after May 25, 1901. See Tiger v. Western Invest. Co., 221 U. S. 286. If it did repeal that provision the Act of May 25, 1908, did not reimpose it. See U. S. v. Bartlett, 235 U. S. 72. If the provision was not repealed then the Digest statement as to Non-Indians and Mixed-Bloods should be:

NON-INDIAN—Until July 26, 1908, could alienate by will providing he had no surviving issue born after May 25, 1901. (6)

After July 26, 1908, all restrictions removed. (8)

MIXED-BLOOD—Until July 26, 1908, could alienate by will providing he had no surviving issue born after May 25, 1901. (6)

After July 26, 1908, if less than half-blood, all restrictions removed, if more than half-blood, could alienate by will, providing he had no surviving issue born after May 25, 1901, or March 4, 1906. And could also alienate after removal of restrictions by the Secretary of the Interior. (6, 8)

ACT OF 1908.

8. Sec. 1, 5, 6, 8 and 9 of the Act of May 27, 1908, effective July 27, 1908 (35 Stat. 312). An Act for the Removal of Restrictions from Part of the Lands of the Five Civilized Tribes.

Caution—The Digest statement is based on the assumption that if Sec. 22 of the Act of April 26, 1906, removed on all but Full-Bloods the restriction imposed by the Original Creek Treaty and Supplemental Treaty that the Homestead should remain for the use and support of children born after May 25, 1901, the above act did not reimpose it on Mixed-Bloods of more than half blood. See U. S. v. Bartlett, 235 U. S. 72 and U. S. v. Cook et al., 225 Fed. 756.

ADULT ALLOTTEE:*SURPLUS

FULL-BLOOD—Until July 26, 1908, could not alienate. (6)

After July 26, 1908, could alienate on removal of restrictions by the Secretary of the Interior and then through probate court. (8)

Note that if allottee of one-half blood or more was a minor on May 27, 1908, he was still under restriction and the act extended such restriction until April 26, 1931. See U. S. v. Hopkins, affirmed by C. C. A., August, 1916.

ACT OF 1904.

9. Indian Appropriation Act of April 21, 1904 (33 Stat. 189), which removed all restrictions on all allottees not of Indian blood, except as to minors and homesteads.

For inherited surplus see U. S. v. Jacobs, 195 Fed. 707, that the above act was not limited to transfers by allottees but extended as well to allottees' heirs.

Under Sec. 23 of the Act of April 26, 1906, if a full-blood sought by will to disinherit parent, wife, spouse or children it was invalid unless acknowledged before and approved by a Judge of the United States Court for the Indian Territory, or a United States Commissioner. This was amended by Sec. 8 of the Act of May 27, 1908, by adding the words—"or a judge of a county court of the State of Oklahoma."

See Tiger v. Western Investment Co., 221 U. S. 286.

12. Sec. 28 of the Original Creek Treaty, May 25, 1901 (31 Stat. 861), and Sec. 7, Supplemental Creek Treaty, Aug. 8, 1902 (32 Stat. 500), are sections providing for allotments to heirs on behalf of dead members.

As to the right to alienate free from all restrictions, see Skelton v. Dill, 235 U. S. 206; Woodward v. DeGraffenreid, 238 U. S. 234; Mullen v. U. S., 224 U. S. 448; Shulthis v. McDougal, 225 U. S. 561.

L. 81), but restrained its application by the proviso in Sec. 30, thereby continuing the jurisdiction of the tribal courts over matters between citizens until the act of June 7, 1897, partially, and the Curtis Act wholly, made the Arkansas law effective.

APPENDIX NO. 1

TOWN LOTS.

Titles to town lots in the territory of the Five Civilized Tribes are based on the Act of Congress of June 28, 1898, The Original Curtis Act, 30 Stat. L. 495; Thomas 46; Bledsoe 407; which provided for the extinguishment of the government and tribal titles (See Woodward v. DeGraffenreid, 238 U. S. 284), the Indian Appropriation Act of May 31, 1900, 31 Stat. L. 221; Thomas 294; Bledsoe 535; the Indian Appropriation Act of March 3, 1903, 32 Stat. L. 982; Thomas 304; Bledsoe 98; and the various treaties with the tribes, Creek, Cherokee, Choctaw and Chickasaw and Seminole Indians.

Upon the provisions of these Acts and treaties patents to town lots were executed and delivered by the principal chiefs of the nations, upon the approval of such patent by the Secretary of the Interior.

These patents recite—the appointment of the townsiste commission which appraised the lots, the approval of the plat by the Secretary of the Interior, the filing of such plat, the awarding of the lot to the proper person—through preferential claim by virtue of having made improvements thereon or having purchased improvements made thereon—the sale of such lot and the payment by the purchaser of the full purchase price.

In the absence of fraud the patent is conclusive and from the time of its delivery the town lot passes into the realm of general title law the same as the town lot of any other state.

NOTE 1. The Act of 1903 referred to above provided for alienation of allotments and inherited lands, on approval of the Secretary of the Interior on recommendation of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, for townsite purposes.

SEGREGATED AND RESIDUE LANDS.

In the various nations of the Five Civilized Tribes there were certain lands segregated from allotment, or remaining after the distribution of the lands to the members of the tribes. These have been sold, from time to time by the authority of Congress, under direction of the Secretary of the Interior. Patents or deeds have been delivered to the purchasers of such lands, which, in the absence of fraud, are complete evidence of title.

Extending the Laws of Arkansas, Subject to the Above Provisions, Over the Indian Territory—Sec. 31. That certain general laws of the State of Arkansas in force at the close of the session of the general assembly of that State of Eighteen Hundred and Eighty-three, as published in Eighteen Hundred and Eighty-four in the volume known as Mansfield's Digest of the Statutes of Arkansas, which are not locally inapplicable or in conflict with this act or with any law of Congress, relating to the subjects specially mentioned in this section, are hereby extended over and put in force in the Indian Territory, until Congress shall otherwise provide, that is to say, the provisions of the said general statutes of Arkansas relating to administration.

Chapter One, and the United States Court in the Indian Territory herein referred to shall have and exercise the powers of courts of probate under said laws; to public administrators.

To Descents and Distributions, Chapter Forty-nine.

* * * * *

Chapter Forty-Nine of Mansfield's Digest of Arkansas—Descents and Distribution—Section 2522. When any person shall die, having title to any real estate of inheritance, or personal estate not disposed of, nor otherwise limited by marriage settlement, and shall be intestate as to such estate, it shall descend and be distributed in parcenary to his kindred male and female, subject to the payment of his debts and the widow's dower, in the following manner:

First: To children, or their descendants in equal parts.

Second: If there be no children, then to the father, then to the mother; if no mother, then to the brothers and sisters or their descendants, in equal parts.

Third: If there be no children, nor their descendants, father, mother, brothers or sisters, nor their descendants, then to the grandfather, grandmother, uncles and aunts, and their descendants, in equal parts, and so on in other cases, without end, passing to the nearest lineal ancestor, and their children and their descendants, in equal parts.

Section 2523. Posthumous children of the intestate shall inherit in like manner as if born in the life time of the intestate, but no right of inheritance shall accrue to any person other than the children of the intestate, unless they be born at the time of the intestate's death.

Sec. 2524. Illegitimate children shall be capable of inheriting and transmitting an inheritance, on the part of their mother, in like manner as if they had been legitimate of their mother.

Sec. 2525. If a man have by a woman a child or children, and afterward shall intermarry with her, and shall recognize such children to be his, they shall be deemed and considered as legitimate.

Sec. 2526. The issue of all marriages deemed null in law, or dissolved by divorce, shall be deemed and considered as legitimate.

Sec. 2527. In making title by descent it shall be no bar to a demandant that any ancestor through whom he derives his descent from the intestate is, or has been, an alien.

Sec. 2528. If there be no children or their descendants, father, mother, nor their descendants, or any paternal or maternal kindred capable of inheriting, the whole shall go to the wife or husband of the intestate. If there be no such wife or husband, then the estate shall go to the state.

Sec. 2529. If any children of an intestate be living, and some be dead, the inheritance shall descend to the children who are living, and to the descendants of such children as shall have died, so that each child who shall be living shall inherit such share as would have descended to him if all the children of the intestate who shall have died leaving issue had been living so that the descendants of each child who shall be dead shall inherit the same their parents would have received if living.

Sec. 2530. The rule of descent prescribed in the last preceding section shall apply in every case where the descendants of the intestate, entitled to share in the inheritance, shall be in equal degree of consanguinity to the intestate, so that those who are in the nearest degree of consanguinity shall take the shares which would have descended to them had all the descendants in the same degree who shall have died leaving issue been living so that the issue of the descendants who shall have died shall respectively take the shares which their parents, if living would have received.

Sec. 2531. In cases where the intestate shall die without descendants, if the estate come by the father, then it shall ascend to the father and his heirs; if by the mother, the estate or so much thereof as came by the mother, shall ascend to the mother and her heirs; but if the estate be a new acquisition it shall ascend to the father for his life time and then descend in remainder to the collateral kindred of the intestate in the manner provided in this act; and, in default of a father, then to the mother for her life time; then to descend to the collateral heirs as before provided.

Sec. 2532. The estate of an intestate in default of a father and mother, shall go first to the brothers and sisters and their descendants, of the father; next, to the brothers and sisters, and their descendants, of the mother. This provision applies only where there are no kindred, either lineal or collateral, who stand in a nearer relation.

Sec. 2533. Relations of the half-blood shall inherit equally with those of the whole blood in the same degree; and the descendants of such relatives shall inherit in the same manner as the descendants of the whole blood, unless the inheritance come to the intestate by descent, devise or gift, of some one of his ancestors, in which case all those who are not of the blood of such ancestors shall be excluded from such inheritance.

Sec. 2534. In all cases not provided for by this Act, the inheritance shall descend according to the course of the common law.

Sec. 2535. Whenever an inheritance or a share of an inheritance shall descend to several persons, under the provisions of this act, they shall inherit as tenants in common, in proportion to their respective shares or rights.

ADVANCEMENT.

Sec. 2536. If any child of an intestate shall have been advanced by him, in his life time, by settlement or portion of real or personal estate, or both of them, the value thereof shall be reckoned for the purpose of this section, only as part of the real and personal estate of such intestate descendible to his heirs, and to be distributed to his next of kin, according to law; and if such advancement be equal to the amount of the share which such child would be entitled to receive of the real and personal estate of the deceased, as herein reckoned, then such child and his descendants shall be excluded from any share of the real and personal estate of the intestate.

Sec. 2537. In cases where such advancement is not equal to the share that such child or relative and his descendants shall be entitled to receive, they shall be entitled to receive so much of the real and personal estate as shall be sufficient to make all the shares of the heirs in such real and personal estate and advancement to be as nearly equal as possible.

Sec. 2538. The value of any real or personal estate so advanced shall be deemed to be that, if any, which was acknowledged by the person receiving the same by any receipt, in writing, specifying the value; if no such written evidence exists, then such value shall be estimated according to its value at the time of advancing such money or property.

Sec. 2539. The maintaining, educating or giving money to a child or heir, without a view to a portion or settlement in life, shall not be an advancement within the meaning of this act.

CONSTRUCTION.

Sec. 2540. The term "real estate" as used in this act, shall be construed to include every estate, interest and right, legal and equitable, in lands, tenements and hereditaments, except such as are determined or extinguished by the death of the intestate, seized or possessed thereof in any manner, other than by lease for years and estate for the life of another person.

Sec. 2541. The term "inheritance" as used in this act, shall be understood to mean real estate, as herein defined, descended according to the provisions of this act.

Sec. 2542. Whenever, in any part of this act, any person is described as living it shall be understood that he was living at the time of the death of the intestate from whom the descent came; and when any person is described as having died, it shall be understood that he died before the intestate.

Sec. 2543. The expression used in this act "where the estate shall have come to the intestate on the part of the "father" or "mother" as the case may be, shall be construed to include every case where the inheritance shall have come to the intestate by gift, devise or descent from the parent referred to, or from any relative of the blood of such parent. Sec. 2545. Before said declaration shall be of any force or effect it shall be recorded in the county where the said declarant may reside, or in the county where the person in whose favor such declaration is may reside.
